Dear Sir:-

The Directors present at yesterday's meeting of the Board asked me to draw your attention to the following -

The Committee appointed to draft a vote of thanks to Mr. Ferris, after taking into consideration the fact that he has served the Association longer than any previous Secretary and that his work has been of such a valuable nature, recommended that something more than a mere vote of thanks be tendered him. As a result of discussion which followed this report, it was decided to ask the members of the Board of Directors and the various faculty organizations to co-operate in contributing to a fund to make a suitable presentation. It was thought that if each of the Board gave one to two dollars, and each of the faculty organizations five dollars, an engrossed address and a set of books, such as Hasting's Dictionary of the Bible, might be procured.

Yours sincerely,

W R Taylor
